

Quincy Health Care Workers Feted By Network Health

NETWORK HEALTH recently hosted the Manet Community Health Center's of Quincy's outreach team at a special Appreciation Breakfast to recognize the group's outstanding performance in reaching out to people in disenfranchised communities and helping them access high-quality health care services. From left to right are: Justin Oldfield, Manet Community Health Center Outreach Team, Quincy; Debbie Gordon, Network Health; and Keith Barry, Manet Community Health Center Outreach Team, Quincy. Network Health hosts Patient Financial Services Appreciation Breakfast to recognize the critically important work of the Manet Community Health Center's outreach team in reaching out to people in disenfranchised communities and securing them with high-quality health care.

